Sea Kayaking

Details

The Sea Kayaking Program is a small-group activity led by a Kayak Master and supported by a safety Zodiac. To take part in the program, participants must have previous kayaking experience and must be able to swim. The minimum age for participation is 16 years.

The program is available during the following trips:

Air-Cruises

- Classic Antarctica
- Polar Circle
- Antarctica & South Georgia

Sea Voyages

- Ushuaia, Cape Horn & Falklands (Malvinas)
- Falklands (Malvinas) & South Georgia
- Falklands (Malvinas), South Georgia & Antarctica

The participation fee is due at the time of reservation. In the case of cancellation 120 days or more prior to departure, Antarctica21 will refund 50% of the participation fee. In the case of cancellation 119 days or less prior to departure, there will be no refund.

Price per person

- Ocean Nova: $ 895 USD
- Magellan Explorer: $ 995 USD

Important:

Only 10 spots are available during each voyage. Due to limited availability, it is highly recommended that the activity be booked together with the original trip reservation.

FAQs

How does the program run?

Participants join the program at the beginning of their expedition. They attend a briefing and training session to review the operating procedures and the equipment. Each excursion unfolds based on the local conditions and the skill level of the group. When possible and desirable, during the excursion some time is also spent exploring on land.

What is difficulty level of this activity?

On a 5-point scale (see the table to the right), the difficulty level is usually between 2 and 3 depending on the excursion. The program offers multiple extended, non-strenuous excursions. It involves physical exercise, potentially on challenging sea conditions and uneven terrain. Participants must have previous kayaking experience and must be able to swim.

What is the group size?

The maximum group size is 10 kayakers.

Difficulty level scale

- 1 Non-strenuous activity, suitable for all skill levels.
- 2 Extended but not a strenuous activity.
- 3 Involves physical activity, potentially in challenging conditions.
- 4 Strenuous, extended activity. Requires good physical fitness.
- 5 Very strenuous activity on untracked terrain. Technical skills needed.

I am an experienced kayaker. Can I go on excursions by myself?

The Antarctica and sub-Antarctic environments present special challenges. In the interest of safety, the Sea Kayaking Program operates only as a group activity guided by an experienced Kayak Master and supported by a safety Zodiac. Independent excursions are not possible.

I would like to try out kayaking but only once or twice. Can I do it?

Kayaking in Antarctica and sub-Antarctic destinations require fitted equipment and special preparation. The group program offers progressive skill development that can only take place with participation in the full program. For these reasons, it is not possible to try kayaking only once or twice. Participants can opt out of an excursion (to spend more time at a landing site, for example) if they wish.

A full-page background image featuring a towering, translucent blue ice wall that dominates the scene. The ice has a layered, crystalline texture with various cracks and crevasses. At the base of the wall, a calm body of water reflects the scene. In the lower foreground, two people in kayaks are visible, providing a sense of scale to the immense ice formation. The overall color palette is dominated by various shades of blue, from deep cerulean to bright, almost white highlights on the ice's surface.
